

Uniform Policy (Nothing Short of Excellence)

Being dressed appropriately communicates to those around us that we live our root belief of Nothing Short of Excellence. We believe that the way students dress is directly correlated to the way they apply themselves to their schoolwork and how they control their behavior. We are here to do the work of learning, and our attire must reflect that focus. Parents are asked to uphold the following regulations so as to cooperate with the school in advancing student self-discipline. In addition, parents are asked to dress children according to weather conditions.
